MILLION FOR SUGAR PLANT.

Local Capital Will Build in Kings County.

Five-Story Factory to Be Ready in One Year.

Beet Fields Near Corcoran Draw Big Industry.

Los Angeles men, Los Angeles capital and Los Angeles energy are to build a million-dollar beet-sugar factory at Corcoran, Kings county. The work is to begin within thirty days. Los Angeles is to profit by the commercial importance of the project.

Contracts have been let for the construction of the immense factory. It is to be ready for operation on June 1 of next year, just twelve months in advance of the time usually occupied in enterprises of this size.

Negotiations which have been under way for many weeks for the establishment of the sugar plant, resulted yesterday in the culmination of a deal whereby the Pacific Sugar Company agrees to commence, within one month, the erection of a modern five-story factory to be built of reinforced concrete, with steel construction where necessary, the factory to be wholly fireproof and entire plant, when completed, to cost about one million dollars.

The Pacific Sugar Company is rated high among industrial corporations in California, having large land holdings and a well-equipped factory at Visalia. It is composed of substantial and enterprising business men of Southern California.

BOON TO CORCORAN.
The establishment of this plant marks an epoch in the development of farm lands in the San Joaquin Valley and particularly in the territory surrounding Corcoran, which, prior to two years ago, was a broad, level plain sparsely settled, given over to sheep raising, cattle ranges and wheat farming.

About this time H. J. Whitley, even then well known as a successful town builder, and man of affairs, and particularly for his achievement in connection with the establishment of the city of Hollywood, in association with other local capitalists purchased and commenced to develop a large tract of land in Kings county near what is now the town of Corcoran, on the main line of the Santa Fe Railway through the San Joaquin Valley.

Where less than two years ago there was nothing but a railroad junction, there is now building a rapidly growing bustling town with pressed brick buildings, parks, artificial stone creamery, bank, hotel and other business houses, electric lights, telephone, telegraph, and piped water system, and dozens of comfortable homes; while throughout the territory surrounding Corcoran there have sprung up scores of substantial farm houses in the midst of thousands of acres of luxuriant alfalfa fields, fruitful vineyards and grain fields.

Within this period there have been established many well-equipped dairies with thousands of high bred dairy cattle; and the lands that were then worth but from $5 to $20 per acre are now valued at from $50 to $200 per acre.

It is declared that during the past two years there has taken place the greatest development of farming lands ever accomplished in a similar length of time on private holdings in this State, if not in the entire country.

FINE BEET LANDS.
Last year, upon experimental cultivation, these lands were proven to be extremely well adapted to the production of sugar beets of an exceptional quality.

This year a large acreage has been planted to sugar beets which are to be shipped to the factory of the Pacific Sugar Company at Visalia. Beets raised here already show a phenomenally high percentage of saccharine matter, as well as a high degree of purity.

Results obtained from the planting and production of sugar beets in this section have demonstrated the fact that probably nowhere in the world can sugar beets be grown with such profit to both farmer and factory alike.

When negotiations were undertaken by Mr. Whitley and his associates to induce the sugar company to consider the erection of a plant at Corcoran, they found this company quite willing to entertain the proposition made, the result of which will be the early completion and operation of the big new plant.

Corcoran is situated safely above the highest flood line on the banks of Lake Tulare, at present the largest inland body of water in the State of California. The region is abundantly watered, and is in one of the best agricultural sections in the State.

The early establishment of the sugar factory is counted upon to do for Corcoran what similar enterprises have done for Oxnard. Only two beet sugar factories were established in the United States last year. Two others are in prospect for the coming twelve months.

SERIOUSLY ILL IN MEXICO.
D. W. Shanks, a widely-known mining engineer, whose home is at No. 2715 Vermont street, this city, is now on route to Los Angeles from Chihuahua, Mex., in charge of two physicians and a nurse. Mr. Shanks became seriously ill while engaged in his work near Chihuahua and his physicians ordered him to leave there at once for the country. His condition rapidly became worse and he started for home. Mr. Shanks has resided in Mexico for seven years, during which time he has been engaged in important work for the various companies in which E. L. Doherty and other Los Angeles capitalists are interested.

BRILLIANT "PROM." AT U.S.C. OPENS THE COMMENCEMENTS.

She holds the center of the stage this month—the sweet girl graduate of the Los Angeles schools.

SHE was there last night, the sweet girl graduate, at the first senior "prom" ever given in Los Angeles. And she had the time of her life. For the University of Southern California was her setting—a radiant star, flashing its brilliance in the face of the night, with far-flung rays outlined in iridescent balls of fire, making a glowing, pulsing center of attraction in the city.

Japanese lanterns, blazing lanes of light in geometric designs throughout the spacious grounds, and beautiful booths were dotted here and there where the guests of the evening, numbering many hundreds, found refreshment and rest between the numbers of the promenade in the flower-scented spaces.

Indoors the annual reception of the president of the university to the various schools included was in progress, and old and young, college "profs." and trustees of the institution, embryonic doctors and lawyers, future dentists and musicians, ambitious young orators and pretty girls of every department, went to and fro in the halls of the building. And the halls were bowled in tall feathery bamboos.

THE WELCOMING.
The receiving party stood in the rooms of the College of Music, the line headed by President Boardman, with Mrs. Boardman, and Dr. Healy, president of the board of trustees, with Mrs. Healy. Next to them, shaking hands and greeting each newcomer with warm cordiality, were four representatives from each of the eight schools of the U.S.C., liberal arts, oratory, music, fine arts, pharmacy, dentistry, medicine and law.

The rooms were a symphony of soft colors in lavender and white sweet peas, with a background of ferns. French baskets full of the fragrant blossoms swung overhead, sweet peas were bunched against the huge fireplace, and were dotted in the flat nets that draped the doorways.

Through the green passageway to the trophy room the visitors strayed. There was a wealth of yellow, every golden flower of springtime, mingled with the trophies gained from many a hard fought battle.

Young people of the university assisted in entertaining and ushered the guests through the masses of the crowd. Out on a veranda screened with ferns by Kammermeyer, furnishing the tempting strains that floated out over the grounds to which hundreds of youthful feet kept time as the long lines passed and repassed in the promenades.

BOOTHS LIKE JEWELS.
The booths were like jewels in the dim setting of the grounds. Each school was represented by its own particular booth. Out in front of the College of Music was a Colonial arbor forty feet long interwoven with green and starred over with marguerites, with tiny wild daisies and soft blossoms of the spring. Mrs. Stahler reigned in this quaint domain, and Colonial maids with powdered hair piled high, with quilted petticoats and panniers, and coquettish Dolly Varden caps, served ices, and good things to the guests at the many small tables.

Cherry blossoms were above over the Fine Arts booth, and their rosy petals were strung in long lines to form the shape of a huge Japanese umbrella. Under the shelter of the cherry blossoms young ladies served punch, and chatted and laughed with the visitors.

The College of Oratory was a truss of the date palm sheathed the sides of this booth, making a frame for the Japanese lanterns that hung all about it, while the top of the booth was woven in bright red.

The College of Liberal Arts was a splendid effect, with brilliant dashing red lines above, and red mission lanterns below, and red mission lanterns below.

NOT PIE, BUT TIE FAMINE.

Though Two Cargoes Relieve Railway Hunger.

Also Shipload of Sleepers Due From Japan.

Covina Line Will Open Soon, But No Other.

"The tie-famine is not exactly broken, but it is greatly relieved; work will now be rushed and the Covina line will be open on July 1."

This was the statement made by Traffic Manager Joseph McMillan of the Pacific Electric yesterday, and the news will bring joy to the hearts of scores of dwellers in the section between San Gabriel and Covina, for it will mean rapid transit for them from their suburban homes to the heart of the city.

The temporary breaking of the famine in railroad ties was accomplished yesterday by the arrival of two big shiploads of ties from the Mendocino coast. Over 50,000 of these redwood ties have come to port, and will all of them be devoted to the completion of the Covina line, and this although other sections of the Huntington system are suffering for want of ties.

It is for this reason that the famine is called only "relieved" by Mr. McMillan, for even with these two cargoes of ties there still are not enough to complete the Covina branch, while in fact there is such a dearth of ties that the work on the four-track line to Watts has been held up and delayed for three months, the Monrovia line to Glendora is without any ties for its right of way, even if it was altogether ready for the completion of the branch lines of the Pacific Electric and Inter-Urban are clamoring for these precious pieces of wood.

FORESTS LAID FLAT.
With these two cargoes of ties now unloading at San Pedro it will be possible to build about eight miles of double-track road or double that distance of single track. There are about 2500 ties to the mile in a single track road without counting side-tracks and switches, and this gives an idea of the enormous quantities of wood used in railway construction.

In fact so desperate has the Pacific Electric been to get proper ties that as long ago as last summer an order was placed in Japan for a cargo of hardwood ties. This was in the nature of an experiment, but it was stated yesterday that it is an experiment likely to prove a success. This great cargo of Japanese ties is expected soon at San Pedro and will mark an era in trans-oceanic transport of bulk freight.

Besides this great cargo, which is somewhere on the way, it is demonstrated that by going to Japan for ties they can be secured and delivered at San Pedro cheaper than can be done for the redwood ties from the northern part of this State.

But it is going to take a good many cargoes to fill the demand of the Pacific Electric lines alone in Los Angeles county, for not only are the two shiploads now at San Pedro, but the Japanese ties as well, are all destined for the tracks of the Covina line. The very next line which will be crying desperately for new ties within a short time will be the Monrovia-Glendora line, which is only awaiting the completion of the big cement bridge across the San Gabriel river to commence track-laying. Then comes the four-track section of the Long Beach line to Watts.

NO TRUTH IN RUMOR.
There is also a story current in Orange county to the effect that Mr. Huntington contemplates building an electric line between San Bernardino and Huntington Beach, making a short cut through Riverside and go to the ocean by way of Santa Ana Cañon.

There is only one trouble about this story and that is that it is not true. It was stated authoritatively yesterday by an officer of the Huntington system and a close friend of Mr. Huntington, that there is no prospect of such a line being built, at least for many years.

"Long before such a line would be built by Mr. Huntington he will build up Los Angeles county and run lines through more populous districts. There are many sections of the county which need just such development before the tremendous work of building an electric line through uninhabited and comparatively waste places is undertaken."

Incidentally, he referred to the long stretch of rough country which would be necessary to traverse and the fact that there was such a practical famine of ties at the present that any prospect of building long stretches of road until this famine is ended would be ridiculous.

The fact that Mr. Huntington often makes trips to Riverside in his automobile and that parties of surveyors have been traversing the neighborhood of the route of this proposed long line, is given as the probable foundation for this San Bernardino-ocean line story.

Meanwhile the officials of the Pacific Electric are rejoicing that the tie-famine is even "relieved."

HERE NEARLY FORTY YEARS.
Death Takes Pioneer Who Had Plumbing Shop at First and Main Streets Long Ago.

John C. McMenomy, one of the city's pioneers, died at his home, No. 1229 Orange street, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The immediate cause of death was heart failure, but he had been a sufferer from a complication of diseases for some time. He was 56 years of age, and leaves but one immediate relative, his widow.

McMenomy came to Los Angeles almost forty years ago. As a young man he established a plumbing business at First and Main streets, and installed the plumbing of many of the large buildings erected in the early days. He retired ten years ago to private life, after having accumulated a good-sized fortune in business. McMenomy served for many years in the old volunteer fire department, and held the position of assistant foreman of Engine Company 2. He was one of the organizers of the veterans' volunteer fire department, of which he was treasurer at the time of his death. His birthplace was Boston. Funeral services will be held in the St. William's Cathedral Fri-

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Civil Service Board has declined to waive the residence clause for persons living outside the city who desire to work on the Los Angeles aqueduct, unless it can be shown clearly that no selector of the city can be secured to fill the place satisfactorily.

Stirred by an urgent appeal from Richard Park for more patrolmen, the Police Board recommended to the Council yesterday that the force be increased at the rate of ten new officers a month.

"Scotty" Allen exercised his political pull yesterday to secure a return of his billiard-hall license revoked for cause by the McAleer Police Board. The Civil Service Board declined last night to reinstate former Police Detective Joe Baker.

Damages of $1500 were awarded yesterday in the Superior Court in the breach of promise suit brought by Miss Louise M. Bristow against Dr. Delbert A. Clark of San Pedro.

Three young leeches caught in the tenderloin were fined $40 each in the Police Court yesterday. All promised to reform.

Justice Frederickson held William Mullen for trial in the Superior Court on a charge of manslaughter.

W. W. Garvin, who is accused of having attempted to kill George Cunningham with a knife, was arraigned yesterday. His preliminary examination will be on the 18th inst.

AT THE CITY HALL.

CONDUIT TO BE HOME PRODUCT.

LOS ANGELES BRAIN AND BRAWN FOR AQUEDUCT.

Civil Service Board declines to waive residence clause for persons wishing to secure employment on ditch—Exception for technical jobs on the Great Work.

Los Angeles brain and brawn are to receive first chance yesterday possibly in building the Owens River aqueduct; no outside help will be imported until it is plain to the Civil Service Commission that the position is one that cannot be filled acceptably by an selector of the city.

This is the policy of the civil service board as announced at last night's session. More than twenty applications were on file from non-residents asking for permission to take a civil-service position; all were in connection with the great water project.

Two applicants ask for positions of technical nature where special skill is required; the board consented that these might take the examination, on condition that they take an affidavit to the effect that they expect to make their future home here. All the others were denied.

Commissioner Young objected strenuously to waiving the residence clause in the case of R. F. Dupuy of Long Beach. Dupuy wants a place as assistant engineer on the aqueduct.

"Long Beach received an opportunity to become a part of Los Angeles and spurned it with scant courtesy," said Young. "When the Consolidation Commission went to Long Beach, a delegation came round with little red-button flags bearing inscriptions unfriendly to consolidation. Now comes an elector of Long Beach and wants a chance to draw down some of the money paid by taxpayers of Los Angeles. I do not think it is meet that we should waive the residence clause, especially as there are fifteen residents of Los Angeles registered for home rule."

"Which means that you object to waiving the red flag," commented Commissioner McCutcheon.

But the other commissioners discovered that there are nine places as assistant engineers to be filled; they decided to forgive the past and give to Long Beach a chance to compete.

John B. Morrow of Yuma received permission to compete in a job of construction clerk. Morrow is an employee of the United States Reclamation Service. He is interested in the job.

Commissioner Young objected this time because the applicant is not a resident of the State. After a short discussion the commission decided to accept this application and to reject the others.

Pasadena, Santa Ana and Bakersfield went down and out in quick succession; the applications from outside the State were considered in a hump and denied. Eliza Allen of Eagle Rock took the State. She sent to the board a written request for permission to serve as janitor for the Eagle Rock school. The letter bore evidence of a fearful struggle on the part of the city limits. The board decided that she shall serve as janitor, provided she can qualify for the place in the civil-service examination.

The board has declined to pass resolutions exempting laborers from civil service. The policy outlined is that there will be no exception except in special cases where it can be shown to the satisfaction of the commission that an extraordinary emergency exists.

WHERE POLITICS WINS.

"SCOTTY" ALLEN REWARDED. Action on a favorable report from Chief Kern, the police board restored to Scotty Allen yesterday the billiard hall license which the McAleer commission revoked a year ago. The action of the board is remarkable in that it officially "reconsidered" the action of the former board. "This probably holds the record for long range consideration. Allen lost his license on June 5 of last year. The hearing before the board that time was an exhaustive one; three evenings in all were devoted to part of the case. Allen is now a police officer. The police officers were a unit in asking that the place be closed for the reason that it was conducted in an unsatisfactory manner, also because it was used as a blind for a social club what was violating the liquor laws."

"Scotty" Allen was one of Chief Kern's staunch supporters when Kern was a candidate for Mayor and he always backed Kern for Council. Yesterday Chief Kern "backed" Allen in the following report:

"With reference to the application of J. S. Allen for reconsideration of the action of the Board of Police Commissioners taken at its meeting held on June 5, 1934, at which time the permit for a billiard license at No. 201 East Third street held by him was revoked: 'I have made a careful investigation of the circumstances and facts connected with this action of the board and have examined all the reports made in connection therewith. It does not appear that Mr. Allen was charged with any violation of the ordinances regulating the hours when such places are to be closed.'

"Mr. Allen has resided in this city for a great many years; he possesses a very wide range of acquaintance and his high character is attested by those competent to conduct such a business properly and has had much practical experience in so doing; he feels that an injustice has been done him by the board in taking the action which it did.

"In view of all the circumstances as shown by the investigation I recommend that the action of the board be reconsidered and that the permit be restored to Mr. Allen."

This the commission considered sufficient reason to restore Allen's license.

WANT MORE STARS.

DEARTH OF POLICEMEN.

The Highland Park Improvement Association sent to the police board yesterday a strong appeal for better police protection; the association asserts that the health and safety of Highland Park requires an immediate increase in the number of officers sent to that suburb.

Their present protection consists of the fact that "an officer is on duty here during part of the day and part of the night." The residents think this number should be increased to about ten.

"There is a population in this section of about 5000 people," recited the petitioners, and the lack of police protection has recently been taken advantage of by lawbreakers who have committed robberies and other crimes.

"The city ordinance regulating the speed of automobiles is daily and almost hourly violated, and other offenses of more or less serious nature are committed."

"We believe we are entitled to better protection and would most respectfully petition you to take steps to investigate the conditions existing here and afford us such relief as in your judgment is necessary in the premises."

Chief Kern supplemented this petition by a request that the police board make some effort to induce the Council to increase the police force at the rate of ten patrolmen a month until the thickly settled section of the city shall receive at least partial police protection.

The board passed a resolution asking the Council to make this increase, then they instructed Secretary McKee to communicate with the Highland Park Association recommending to the members that they labor with their representative in the Council to secure his support of a proposal to increase the force.

No Room for Baker.

Former Police Detective Joe Baker will not return to a place in the city's service. At an executive session last night the civil service board declined to grant the request of the police board for Baker's reinstatement.

At the time of Baker's dismissal he was charged with sending false reports to the main office when out on duty. He left the force more than two years ago. The rules of the civil service board require that applications for reinstatement must be made within the two years after dismissal.

The board passed a resolution asking the Council to make this increase, then they instructed Secretary McKee to communicate with the Highland Park Association recommending to the members that they labor with their representative in the Council to secure his support of a proposal to increase the force.

yesterday was turned back by Judge Monroe on the tender mercies of the Police Court. Crowley, against whom charges are pending for his action in ignoring the decision of the police board, had brought two suits in the Superior Court, asking a writ of review of his case by the Police Commission and a writ of mandate to compel the issuance of a license to him. Judge Monroe denied both.

CRESSATY SUES. A suit for $15,000 damages against the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company was filed yesterday in the Superior Court by E. Cressaty, whose restaurant was wrecked, it is alleged, by a gas explosion on February 13. Cressaty seeks $6000 for loss of property and $9000 for damage to his business.

OLD SUIT ON TRIAL. The suit of Will I. Wyckoff against the Southern Railway Company is once more on trial in the Superior Court, a new trial having been granted. The action, to recover $15,000 damages for alleged personal injuries, was brought in 1902. It was charged that through the carelessness of the company a wagon in which Wyckoff had been driving across the tracks was struck by an engine. The case first came to trial in September and left the court in a verdict for the defendant. On July 10, 1906, the verdict was affirmed by the Appellate Court.

One Is Son of Man Who Made Shoes for Justice Austin—William Mullen, Accused of Manslaughter, Held for. Higher Tribunal—W. W. Garvin Arraigned.

The fact that Samuel Benjamin's father had made shoes for Justice Austin of the Police Court, years ago, did not gain a light sentence for the son, when he appeared in court yesterday to answer to a charge of vagrancy.

Benjamin, who is known to the police as "Yen She Ben," was arrested when the police drag-net spread out over the tenderloin Saturday, and hauled in all the objectionable characters to be found there at that time.

Benjamin was alleged to have been living on the earnings of disreputable women. Yesterday he pleaded guilty to the charge and offered to pay his fatherly support of his mother and sister. Justice Austin had a few words to say to him.

Benjamin admitted that his father had made shoes for the justice in San Francisco thirty years or more ago. He told the police magistrate that he had attended school with his children and that then he had become the companion of men and women of the underworld and had drifted into the life of the tenderloin.

The justice became reminiscent about more youthful days in the North and so did "Yen She Ben," until the barrier of years of the lower life was swept aside and the convicted man begged to be allowed to try to begin over again.

Benjamin was released on a $100 bond and was permitted to leave the city. He had thanked the justice for the advice given him.

Walter Grady, 23 years of age, was arraigned yesterday. He told the court that he had a good home here and that his people would willingly support him, but that they were a fascination about the life in the tenderloin that fairly chained him to it.

Justice Austin told him that if he didn't discover fascination in honest work and to home and live with his parents, where he belonged, he would soon be chained to the chain gang. Grady promised to reform and paid a $50 fine.

Bob Burke was the third fish taken out of the net. He, like Grady, explained that he was just entering the life offered by the tenderloin. When informed by the justice of the possibilities in the working line, offered by chain-gang service, he also promised to lead an honest life. His fine was $50.

The three men arrested in the raid will be tried within the next few days. These are old offenders and will be finally fined or sentenced to the chain gang.

Manslaughter Charge.

William Mullen, who is charged with technical manslaughter, was held for trial in the Superior Court under a $1000 bond after preliminary examination before Justice Frederickson yesterday.

Mullen was employed as strike-breaker during the teamsters' strike early in May. During an altercation with a flagman of the Southern Pacific near Alameda street on May 5, Patrick Connelly, a union teamster, attempted to take sides against Mullen. He was hit on the chin and killed. Mullen was held to answer on the manslaughter charge first by the coroner's jury.

At times his eyes grew dreamy, and seemed to look beyond the heavy figure, topped with a stiff, gray pompadour, back into the past, into the sweet illusions she had known in her imagination. She seemed unconscious of the bickering which arose in the courtroom. Her slightly pinched features were wistful, pathetic.

J. Marlon Brooks, in introducing the case, said: "The doctor admits his signature."

Finally the judge said, sharply: "There seems to be rather too much levity in these proceedings. Colonel, please refer to the defendant as the defendant."

"Yes," responded Brooks, with a smile, "and please do not call me 'colonel.' I am not a colonel."

Presently he relinquished the conduct of the case to Attorney Hutton.

Attorney Hutton, for the defense, made strenuous objection to the introduction of two letters, declaring that they had been altered. He insisted that words had been blotting out and others written with a pen.

The witness was called to explain. Judge Bordwell himself asking the questions for the sake of clearness and brevity.

"I just marked with the pencil over lines which had almost disappeared," explained Miss Bordwell. "I was years could read them. Those letters got wet—that is, I was crying when I read them."

Judge Bordwell overruled the objections of Attorney Hutton.

Attorney Hutton moved for a non-suit on the technical ground that while there had been evidence introduced to show that Dr. Clark had wished to marry Miss Bristow, there had been none to show that she had accepted him. The motion was overruled.

Dr. Clark is said to own $40,000 worth of property in San Pedro and other beach towns.

HEADS OF HERB CONCERNS ARE ARRAIGNED IN COURT.

Charged With Practicing Medicine Without License—Woman Secures Alleged Evidence Against Them, and Her Testimony Promises to Be Interesting.

Drs. Tom She Bin, Wong H. Young and G. S. Chang, three of the best known and wealthiest Chinese physicians in the United States, were arrested yesterday on warrants issued by representatives of the State Board of Medical Examiners. The Orientalists are charged with practicing medicine without a license.

The arrests yesterday were the first of a series that will be made by the representatives of the board in a general crusade against the herb-cure work and then frequently interpreted to explain in English to the judge some of the remarks he had made in the interpreter.

All pleaded not guilty and demanded trials in the proper form, retaining Attorney Weiler to represent them.

Dr. Tom She Bin is a college graduate, having received his diploma in medicine in America for several years, has a wife and family in Los Angeles and is respected by all the Chinamen of the country. Before coming to this city, shortly after the San Francisco fire, the doctor managed a large herb business in the northern city. Since his arrival here he has conducted an herb company on South Broadway.

Yesterday, when he appeared in court, he was dressed in the costume of a Chinaman of wealth and wore the red button of his cap, yesterday he wore a rank. He was indignant at the charge against him. George Lem provided the necessary $200 bond for him.

Dr. G. S. Chang, the "duke" among the Los Angeles Chinamen, resembled a fashion plate as he stepped forward to enter a plea of not guilty. He has a place on South Hill street.

He scorned the services of a dozen or more Chinamen who offered to go on his bond and putting his hand in the pocket of his daintily tailored coat he drew out a stack of $20 gold pieces and told the clerk to take out enough to cover his bail.

The son is said to be a physician of merit, but is alleged to have no State license. His herb company is on South Spring street and one of the most popular of the companies in Los Angeles.

All the complaints have been sworn to by Miss Beulah K. Hall, who secured the alleged evidence against the doctors. Her testimony promises to be interesting when she relates the various Oriental methods of treatment.

Chief Prosecutor Sums Up Damning Facts Against Federation Heads.

Opens Idaho's Accusation of Criminal Conspiracy by Haywood.

Shows Plot of Laborites to Rule by Terrorism and Bloodshed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]

OISE, June 4.—Through James H. Hawley, senior of the group of prosecutors, the State of Idaho today made the opening statement against William D. Haywood, whom it charges with the murder of Frank Steunenberg, and other murders.

The opening statement was a broad, sweeping arraignment of the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners, who were charged with plotting wholesale murder, and hiring assassins, in a plan to rule the West by terrorism, to control the political destinies of the communities covered by their organization.

It charged a widespread conspiracy dating in inception from the North Idaho disturbances fifteen years ago, reaching down to the murder of Frank Steunenberg, and other murders.

Hawley declared that wherever in the mining stations of the Coast States the crime had been in control, there had been left a trail of blood to mark its operations. Of the hired assassins he cried: "To them murder became a trade and assassination a means of living."

JURY IS ISOLATED.

Court Bars Possible Corruption.

Schmitz's Lawyers Object to Biggy, but Dunne Waves Them Aside.

State Expects to Take but Six Days Offering Evidence of Graft.

Counsel Randy Sharp Reports as Trial Enters on Its Final State.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The jury was completed this afternoon for the trial of Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz on the first of the five indictments returned against him by the Oliver grand jury, by which he is accused jointly with Abraham Ruef of having extorted from Joseph Malanti $1175 as the first installment of a $5000 annual bribe to secure the French restaurant keepers of San Francisco their licenses to sell liquor.

Judge Dunne, upon motion of the prosecution and over the determined and spirited objections of the defense, formally disqualified Sheriff Thomas O'Neil and Coroner William Walsh as unimpaired by personal bias to perform any court functions in connection with the trial, and appointed William J. Biggy an ellisor to have charge of the jury until the verdict is rendered or a disagreement reached.

JURY IS ISOLATED.

Shortly after adjournment of court, Mr. Biggy—who for some months past has been Abe Ruef's jailor—marched the jury to the St. Francis Hotel, where the "twelve tried men and true" will be kept under lock and key during all the time that they are not sitting in court. Judge Dunne has decided that the jurors shall have no communication with the outside world, and that they shall be kept in the hotel, where they will be kept under lock and key during all the time that they are not sitting in court.

The State hopes to put in all of its evidence this evening. Police Commissioners Hutton, Reagan, Drinkwater, Howell and Pohlman will likely be the first witnesses called.

SESSION IS STORMY.

This, the last of the long days of jury setting, was a stormy one, full of bickerings between opposing counsel. More than once the he was couched and passed and several times made the order from the bench for one attorney or another to desist.

Two jurors, one of whom had been sworn the previous day, were challenged for cause by the State and set aside by the court, over the vehement objections of the defense. Five other veniremen disqualified themselves by one cause or another and were dismissed without serious opposition. The eleventh and twelfth jurors were chosen and sworn, though Burns and Royal W. Cudworth, the former a retired coal merchant and the latter, oddly enough, a dealer in coal.

SCHMITZ OBJECTS TO BIGGY.

The disqualification of the sheriff and the coroner, and the appointment of former State Senator Biggy, as an ellisor to keep the custody of the jury pending the trial were not accomplished without bitter opposition by the Mayor and counsel. The defense objected to the appointment of Biggy as ellisor, and the court locked up at all, and in the second place to Biggy as custodian. Addressing the court on this point former Judge Campbell, senior counsel for Schmitz, said:

"We object to Mr. Biggy because he is a part and parcel of the prosecution and expressed himself so to be. We object to him again because in the guarding of Mr. Ruef the co-defendant with our client, he has taken into his employment persons employed by the prosecution, notably Detective William J. Burns, than whom no man is more zealous for the conviction of this defendant. We ask that jury to try the case."

QUAKE SHAKES SAN FRANCISCO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Twenty minutes after midnight there was a sharp, short earthquake shock, the hardest since the big quake of last year.

The sensation was as if some monster was shaking the buildings in its teeth. Bricks were thrown down. Pedestrians felt it in the street. Night workers rushed to the sidewalks.

One man working in the Chronicle building, whose nerves were keyed up with memories of the last quake, fainted, and did not come to without vigorous restoratives.

defendant, Schmitz, he not put into the hands of a man who is avowedly his enemy. Against the action your honor proposes, we protest in the name of justice."

JOHNSON TAUNTS CAMPBELL.

Judge Dunne replied to this appeal by saying that he, as upon other occasions announced, had no confidence in the Sheriff's office. "But I have confidence in Mr. Biggy," he said, "and that is the reason I am going to appoint him. I know if Mr. Biggy has charge of this jury it will not be subjected to any outside influences. And that is the one thing that concerns the court."

"That is just what we want to be sure of," retorted Judge Campbell. "That," asserted Mr. Johnson of the prosecution, "is evident from the conduct of the defense."

NEW AUTOMATIC MAIL SERVICE.

Electricity the Power, and When Necessary, May Be Used for Lights. Wires May Be Used for Telephonic Service—Inventor Says His System Is Now in Practical Use.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, June 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An automatic system of delivering mail from house to house, in cities and rural districts, is the plan of a New York man, who asserts he has an invention which will make this possible.

The system consists of the utilization of small cars, propelled by electricity, upon overhead wires. The cars shoot along the wires at a speed of twenty-five miles or more an hour, depositing letters or other mail matter in residences or stations, and as it does so, jingles a bell as a notification that the mail has arrived.

Not only does it do this, but it also collects mail and provides a parcel delivery which will solve, in part at least, the problem of a parcel post. Its wires can be used for telephonic purposes, making it possible to install instruments at a small cost, and electric lights and power can be furnished to patrons in connection with the service.

The inventor is Ralph M. Bartholomew of Corning, N. Y., who says that the apparatus is already in practical operation at Reading Center, N. Y.

JINGO JAP FOMENTS WAR ON UNCLE SAM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, June 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The progressive party of Japan, led by Count Okuma, is willing to precipitate a conflict with the United States, with the San Francisco school row as the ostensible cause belli, is admitted by Seichiro Mori, a reporter on the Hochi Shimbun of Tokyo, who is in America gathering general information concerning the trend of public opinion toward Japan.

Count Okuma publishes the Hochi Shimbun, and has actively begun a campaign to exert pressure on the Mikado's government to force it to act in accordance with what Okuma believes to be the sentiment of Japan, in demanding of the people of San Francisco reparation to the Japanese there whose property was destroyed by mob violence, and also to require of the San Franciscans what the Japanese declare to be their rights in school affairs.

According to Mr. Mori, Count Okuma favors the sending of Japanese warships to San Francisco, not in a warlike spirit, but simply to impress the citizens of that city with the naval might of Japan. The Hochi Shimbun daily advocating more backbone for the government in dealing with the San Francisco situation. The following is a typical expression:

"The people of San Francisco evidently believe that we are a race of barbarians," says the Count, in a recent issue of his paper. "Would it not be well to send a few of our warships, peerless and invincible, for the San Franciscans to look upon and reflect if the people of Japan are semi-savage and in darkness? The people of Japan are too complacent, and it is all very well for the government to tell us the matter will be adjusted. Time is being lost, and the rights of the Japanese are being trampled on. Insistence should be pressing."

DYNAMITE SEIZURE.

Police Nip Carmen's Deadly Plot.

Enough Explosive to Blow Up Dozen Trolleys Is Captured.

Giant Powder Is Traced to Lair of Union Ruffians in San Francisco.

Terrible Bombs Are Secured as They Reach Place of Their Address.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dynamite enough to have blown up a power-house or a dozen street cars was captured today by the San Francisco police as the package was being delivered to the home of two striking carmen, next door to the carmen's union headquarters on Tennessee street.

That was late this afternoon. Early this morning two other sticks of deadly dynamite were found on the car tracks on Ellis street. The motor-men saw them just in time to prevent a catastrophe.

The carmen's union expect some automobile buses to arrive Sunday and they evidently wish by some horrible massacre to terrify passengers into patronizing them instead of the street cars. Blowing women and children into atoms on a street car would certainly be a strong advertising for a bus line, but is not usually considered legitimate in advertising circles.

BUTCHERY IS PLANNED.

As the tag end of a strike is usually the most bloody and most violent, the United Railroads detectives have been keeping a close watch for the shipment of explosives.

This morning they received word that an express package was en route from San Mateo, which seemed to contain nitroglycerine.

The officials of the company were at first inclined to put it down as an idle rumor, but at the Wells-Fargo office they saw such a package. It was addressed to "Glynn Bros., No. 108 Tennessee street." The records of the company showed that it had been shipped from San Mateo by one "E. Reid," who had given the value as $2.

The police were notified, and went at once to the address on Tennessee street, and surrounding the house, waited for the package to be delivered.

TRACE DEADLY PACKAGE.

No. 108 Tennessee street, sure enough, was found to domicile two brothers named Glynn, who are striking carmen. The house is owned by a striker named Jeffrey, who lives next door, and who gives his basement, rent free, to the union pickets of the company, who concoct the violence for the cars in the rough region of Tennessee and Bryant streets.

After waiting several hours, the police, who were accompanied by Mr. Handlon of the United Railroads, saw the express wagon driver coming toward the house.

They allowed him to go up to the door and ring the bell. A young girl came at first. She said the Glynn brothers were not in. She was followed by an older woman, into whose hands the package was placed.

As she took it, she said: "Why, it must be dynamite."

Detective Todd stepped up and took the package from her, not without protest on her part. He unwrapped it on the steps and found that it contained seven sticks of No. 2 Hercules giant powder, any one of which would blow a street car into dust. The powder was merely wrapped in three newspapers—two Evening Bulletins and one Examiner.

BOMBS WERE EXPECTED.

Jeffrey, who is recognized as one of the most rabid strikers, admitted to Attorney Porter, who was present at the arrest to represent the company, that he knew of the shipment of the explosive through a man named Harrison. The bombs are now in the hands of the police, who are looking for Reid, Harrison and the Glynn.

That the explosive must have been sent from some outside town to San Mateo is evident. There is no place in that town where dynamite can be purchased.

Police have a clue also as to the placing of two sticks of dynamite on the Ellis-street tracks. Accurately speaking, it was one stick broken in two places, and the other was in four and the other five detonation caps. CORNELIUS EVADES FACTS.

Some one tipped off Mr. Cornelius this afternoon of the disaster that had happened to the powder shipment. He reacted out one of his celebrated statements. He said the whole thing was a plot on the part of the United Railroads to blow itself—for what reason remains a mystery in his brain.

Mr. Cornelius has now caught the United Railroads in two plots—the first being to short-circuit their own wires for the fun of burning out an expensive switchboard and sending out a big force of men at dead of night to repair it before daylight. This is the second.

Porter, when introduced to Cornelius at the arraignment of the strikers who did the short circuiting, said to the carmen's president: "How do you do, you are the man I am going to put in prison."

"Try to you mean," said Cornelius turning pale.

"There is no such word as try in my vocabulary," retorted he.

Striking Stevedores Clash With Jersey Police.

Three Are Hurt in Attacks by Longshoremen.

More Trouble Feared From Unionite Mob.

NEW YORK, June 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rioting was renewed today in the strike of the longshoremen when three men were severely injured as the Italian Steamship Company's men in Jersey City.

There were several disturbances along the water front on this side of the river and the rebellious spirit of the strikers at most of the piers caused apprehension tonight that the warfare likely to be resumed tomorrow. Officials of most of the steamship companies maintain that the strike is unabated, but yesterday it was easy to see the work of loading and unloading the vessels is not progressing in a satisfactory way. At some of the piers a large number of men were at work, but they did not appear to accomplish much.

Combining of union and non-union crews, with the police under a cross, caused trouble in Jersey City. This it is stated, the fracas assumed the proportions of a pitched battle, fully one hundred men being engaged incessantly, for nearly an hour.

MINERS JOYOUS OVER WALKOUT.

ORDER FOR STRIKE GIVES MEN MUCH PLEASURE.

Indiana State Officers of United Mine Workers Order Out Five Thousand Employees, Making Happy Those Who Will Leave at Expense of Other Members.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Written notice from state officers of the United Mine Workers of America, calling upon the owners of sixteen mines to leave work Friday, was received at the local mines today, and unless some compromise is effected in the meantime, 5000 men will quit work at that time. President Van Horn said today that the men would have been called out once, but he withdrew the order after a local written notice and it would take two or three days to visit all the mines.

district treasury has recently depleted somewhat, and it is expected to assess the 5000 working men to support the 5000 who will be out under the strike order. The men are said to be enthusiastic over the prospect of a walk-out, and trouble is expected at two mines today in support of the officers of the local union at a strike as soon as Van Horn's order is received.

Leading operators say that there has been trouble with the miners ever since they refused to grant an increase in the last State convention, and a point seems to have been reached in their relations with the operators.

It is said that employment agencies have been consulted and are ready to take non-union men to take the place of the strikers, and the matter is under consideration by some of the mine owners.

MARINE STRIKE ENDING.

LOOK TO RESUME WORK.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—F.M. WILKINS, June 4.—The strike situation continues uncertain, but officials of the navigation companies are of the opinion that a general resumption of work is a matter of a short time only.

On the part of the companies, made at the request of the government, not to make desertions, will have it, it is believed, a good influence on the men.

The men at several points have expressed a desire for continuation of the movement, but the men generally are inclined to go to work.

delegates of the strikers met today and confirmed their action in the night in advising the men to strike to an end. A dispatch received here from Cherbourg says the crews of the transatlantic vessels joined the movement.

LABOR BRIEFS.

WORKERS STRIKE. CHICAGO, June 4.—The fact that there are no rules in the "Union" house is deplored by Louis Gorman, proprietor of the Commercial Union. He says he has a on his hands today because of woodworkers' employe who to the quality of a beefsteak to him for Sunday dinner. Two of the carpenters and the woodworkers are interested in determining the quality of the steak. The carpenters are in sympathy with the foreman who discharged the "russy" and was himself discharged. The woodworkers struck because the foreman was reinstated.

THINKS NURSES POISON FOOD.

HOSPITAL MANAGER IS INSANE TEMPORILY.

Mayor and Chief of Police Try to Calm Him, and Offer Protection He Begs for Mental Rejuvenation Follows His Trouble—His Condition Is Critical.

Being to be protected from the enemies who, he believed, were seeking his life, Milton N. Eskey, manager of the Pacific Hospital, was taken to police headquarters yesterday afternoon and there, in order to humor him, was allowed to file complaint against his nurses.
Eskey was escorted to the station by Mayor Harper, Chief Kern, Police Commissioner Schenck, Sgt. Adams and a nurse. His condition was such that the greatest care had to be exercised to keep him quiet and as soon as the officers succeeded in persuading him that he would be protected he was taken to Hotel Hayward.
Eskey became seriously ill with an attack of heart trouble some weeks ago. He has since been attended at the Pacific Hospital, and his friends noted each day that his condition was rapidly reaching a point where it would mean either life or death to the man.
A constant watch was kept at his bedside and the Mayor, Eskey's close friend, received almost hourly bulletins from the hospital. Yesterday afternoon the Mayor was notified that Eskey had apparently become temporarily mentally deranged. The Mayor hurried to the hospital, where Eskey begged to be protected from surgeons and nurses who he claimed were attempting to poison him.
He told the Mayor that the nurses had compelled him to make life with him and had then fed him food which contained poison, and he begged police protection.
The Chief of Police, also an intimate friend of Eskey, was telephoned for. He hurried to the hospital, and tried to quiet Eskey by offering him any amount of protection. But the sick man refused to be quieted. Sgt. Adams, in charge of the beat where he was called in by the Chief in the hope that the sight of the uniform of the department might serve to relieve the sick man.
As a last resort, the Chief sent for a car and they took him to the Chief's office. There he clung to the officers as though in fear of an immediate death. Finally, after seeing a score or more of uniformed men about him, and receiving assurance that these men would protect him, Eskey consented to go to bed. At his protest he was taken to Hotel Hayward. His condition is reported to be critical.

FOR FAMINE VICTIMS.

Chinese Mission Workers Give Novel Entertainment for the Benefit of Suffering Thousands.

A bit of old China was transported to the First Congregational Church last evening when the Chinese mission gave an entertainment for the benefit of the famine sufferers. Chinese tapestries hung on the walls, the Chinese flag, intermingled with the Stars and Stripes, held a place of honor. Immovable Mongolian face, and costumes mingled oddly with New World silks and satins.

The programme was opened by an address by Judge Wilbur. Whereupon Lee Hong, one of the leading spirits

LAUNDRY HIGHER.

Proprietors Say Soap Costs More, While Owners of Routes Declare They Are Targets.

An extra nickel tacked on here and there to bills has brought to light, gently but clearly, the fact that the steam laundries have raised their rates. Drivers who own their own routes and deal with the laundries on a commission basis say it is due to an attempt on the part of the proprietors to gain full control of the business. The owners simply state that the prices of soap and other materials have gone up, and that the cost of labor is considerably above that which prevailed several years ago, when the present schedule of prices was adopted.

There is little change in the "men's list," but in the list of articles of women's wear there are some advances that do not always appear on the printed schedule. The advance will be felt mostly, it is predicted, when the men get down to steady summer work and the white shirt waist begins to shed its customary hot-weather effulgence.

PRESIDENT'S SON ENTHUSIASTIC.

DEADWOOD (S. D.) June 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Kenneth Roosevelt, son of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, has confided a letter to Capt. Seth Bullock, his father's old friend, that when he gets through college he purposes to come out West and go on a ranch and rough it for a few years, as his father did in his early manhood.

The young man has conceived a great liking for Capt. Seth Bullock, by whom he was entertained in the West some time ago, and writes him every once in a while. He became greatly enamored with the West, its life and its people, when he was out here and he declared then that if his father would give his consent, he would come West when his college days were over, and spend a few years.

In one of his letters he says, "The West is the country for me. I like it better than the East, because there is so much more to see and do out there. I understand how why my father loves the West so, and I wonder why he ever came back East."

ITCH! ITCH! ITCH!

Scratch! Scratch! Scratch! Eczema is maddening and the more you scratch the more you itch. Your skin is on fire—your lips and your mouth are dry with the agony of it—your whole body is worn out with the constant suffering—stop scratching—you can't put out the fire with your finger nails. Little's Liquid Sulphur stops itching instantly and because of its wonderful penetrating qualities comes in direct contact with and kills the germ that causes the disease. It quickly relieves any skin disease on earth—Eczema, Psoriasis, Herpes, Tetter, Shingles, Acne, Ringworm, Boils, Itch, Poison Oak, Ivy Poison, Erysipelas—all diseases of the skin or scalp whether caused by heredity, contagion, weather, chafing or impure blood.

It is well known what a perfect antiseptic and germicide sulphur is—all city health departments fumigate houses where contagious diseases have been with sulphur. Little's Liquid Sulphur is a secret preparation holding the sulphur in solution so that it gets right into the pores, enters the blood and goes direct to the seat of the irritation or disease. Look for the trade-mark—picture of red devil. Sample bottle sent postpaid to any address for 1c. Rhuma-Sulphur Co., St. Louis, Mo.

WOULD REVOKE CLERGY'S RATE.

Railroads Find Half-Price
Rate Up Profits.

Two-Cent-Fare Laws Render Change Necessary.

Lines Invoke Commerce Bill
Against Scalpers.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

CHICAGO, June 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The question of discontinue the half rates for clergymen will be discussed June 19 by the Transcontinental Passenger Association. Although the interstate commerce law specifically authorizes the railroads to reduce rates to clergymen, most of the roads are in favor of abolishing their clergy bureau and charging ministers and others engaged exclusively in religious work, full fare. It is only half a cent more than the half rates clergymen have been getting.

As effect will be made by the roads of the transcontinental association to reduce the trans-Atlantic and trans-Pacific rates to clergymen, the association is expected to stop passing on handling their tickets. It is alleged that the scalpers frequently give up part of their commission on membership tickets to cut the fare to the ports from which the ships sail and thereby violate the interstate commerce law.

Out Kint.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, June 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The suspicious circumstances surrounding the fight between Tommy Murphy and Harry Kint, in which the Harlem boy lost a foul, before the National Sports Club last night, were explained by Johnny Oliver, the manager of Murphy, who said:

"Last Friday a man known as McDonald, who is an afternoon newspaper man, came to me at the New Athletic Club and asked: 'Oliver, will you take $2000 to have my lay down in the fight with Kint? Just let him put a bandage on his bad leg, and when the referee says he can go down for the first time, he can go down for the second time.'"

"I told him that we were not in the business of that kind of thing, and he said: 'I don't want to talk about this a thing.'"

"McDonald did not explain to me the nature of the game, but he continued Oliver: 'I did not want to let him put a bandage on his leg and did not want to hear about it. I don't know who he was represented. I am, of course, not talking for my money.'"

GATES REPORTS ON CROPS.

NEW YORK, June 4.—John W. Gates, who has just returned to this city from the Southwest, where he has been inspecting his properties, says the reports of crop damage have been exaggerated. The damage to wheat, according to Mr. Gates, will probably range between 1 and 5 per cent. He says, however, that the cotton crop has been damaged as a result of the unusually heavy rains.

DON'T PUT IT OFF LONGER.

Get Rid of That Indigestion at Once
by Using Mi-na.

Either through slackness or carelessness hundreds of people slowly poison themselves by chronic indigestion. By neglecting to cure at once any sluggishness of the important organs of digestion the system is filled with fermenting and decaying food that results in sick headaches, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, specks before the eyes, sleeplessness, nervous troubles and many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion.

The want of a perfectly safe yet effective cure for indigestion and stomach troubles in their many forms was felt up to the time of the successful investigations that resulted in the production of Mi-na stomach tablets. They cure quickly the worst cases of indigestion, and the pain and distress which are often felt after meals disappear in a very few days—such is the wonderful curative power of Mi-na.

The old-fashioned medicines for stomach troubles merely digest the food, while Mi-na strengthens the digestive organs so that they soon become able to care for the food that is eaten.

We absolutely agree that your money will be refunded should you buy a 50c box of Mi-na stomach tablets and not be satisfied with the results. Mi-na is sold by druggists everywhere, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents. Booth's Mi-na Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

it as a good thing, and many of them expect to get work on the aqueduct."

BONDS ARE CARRIED.

LANDSLIDE IN FIRST WARD.

Owens River bonds carried in the First Ward, last night, by the ratio of 40 to 1, were easily carried by the voters in Bottler Hall, Avenue 21 and Downey avenue. More than two hundred people were present.

Postmaster M. H. Flint presided and accepted assistance by his enthusiastic staff for the city and its welfare. By a homely illustration he showed the futility of pumping the surrounding country. He compared it to a man who has slighted nature by his neglect of interest. If he lives on $60 per year he is all right, he said, but if he draws $100 of the principal in addition to the $60 he gets next year his income will only $54; if he draws another $100 the principal the next year, his interest is only $40, and soon he will have no money left. The speaker pointed out how to be exactly the case in the Hawaiian Islands, where each year the planters have slighted nature by neglecting except when there is an abnormal rainfall.

Councilman Dromgold, the first speaker, said: "This is the most one-sided subject I ever saw." Then he showed how utterly without foundation was the charge made by the opponents. He declared the matter of taxation to be the only reasonable argument. He showed figures showing that a man with a $500 residence would be taxed only $4.58 each year for the project. Each of my men can save himself from paying more than one day's work to get this water? Speaking of "graft" he said that this was a thing which had been done but never with less reason than what the present water board is in power."

"I've realized till I went up there what an essay project it is to bring that water here. I saw that Providence was against me," he said, and then Owens River to come to Los Angeles.

It was in speaking of the purity of the water supply that he dealt a quiet blow to the editor of an evening sheet.

"He sent a man named Lawrence to see me about this water," he said, and continued the speaker. "I openly state this, to see if it will be denied in his paper tomorrow. I, too, got samples of this water from west them to the chemist at the University of Southern California to be analyzed. After three or four days I telephoned to see how my analyses were getting along, and the chemist said: By the way, I am testing other water from the same place, I asked how the analyses were coming out. The results will not be published," was the answer, and they were being put off until they were the chemist with being in my pay."

"When one of his hearers asked about getting water by sinking wells, Mr. Mulholland said: The possibility of this water from such contiguous source is absolutely futile."

The last speaker was Stanley B. Wilson, who dwelt upon the integrity and sacrifice of the Chief Engineer in having won the great project so successfully.

At the close of the meeting Owens River battling with the water attached, were distributed.

Pioneers in Line.

At the meeting of the Society of California Pioneers in Caladonia Hall last evening, a communication was read from the Owens River Campaign Committee suggesting the passage of a resolution by the society similar to that recently adopted by the City Club of Berkeley, and asking the members to officially endorse the water project. The committee's suggestion was accepted.

Indorses the Project.

The South Side Improvement Association has indorsed unanimously the Owens River campaign, and urged its members to work for the bonds.

FINDS PARTNER COLD IN DEATH

Monday

WHY URGENT APPEAL FOR AID WAS NOT ANSWERED.

Civil War Veteran, Enraged at Seeming Diarogd of His Companions of Years of His Request for Assistance, Rushes Home and Finds Friend Lifeless.

Intending to dissolve a life-long partnership with Frank Swain because of his alleged infidelity, Nelson crossed the continent together in an emigrant train. They settled in what was then known as a wilderness—now a city. Nelson found Swain dead in the City Jail was unheeded. Frank Nelson rushed from the prison to find home and found Swain dead. The two old men resided in a cottage at No. 213 G Street. Swain had died some time Monday.

Many years ago Swain and Nelson crossed the continent together in an emigrant train. They settled in what was then known as a wilderness—now a city. Nelson found Swain dead in the City Jail was unheuded. Frank Nelson rushed from the prison to find home and found Swain dead. The two old men resided in a cottage at No. 213 G street. Swain had died some time Monday.

Nelson was established as a journeyman and Swain eked out an existence by doing odd jobs. Swain was pensioned. Swain was about 70 years old and Nelson is nearly as aged. For years their interests had been in common. Nelson had frugally accumulated a surplus from their meager incomes.

Nelson was unfortunate enough to be arrested Monday night by a policeman on the corner. Nelson was freed Tuesday he was fined $3 and sent back to the City Jail. With his few remaining pennies he sent a messenger to Swain pleading for bail. Nelson kept the failure of Swain to respond with a stronger appeal was dispatched through the City Jail to the City Jail. Through other friends last night he secured the necessary money to pay the fine. The messenger returned and set out for home with a firm intention of dissolving the long-established partnership. Nelson pinned the two notes pinned to the post. The door was unlocked and Nelson rushed in.

Lying on his bed, the body of Swain was cold. Nelson stood over him for minutes he stood paralyzed with horror and remorse. Then he dashed from the room and sought refuge in the street. Two returned to the cottage where a investigation was made.

Nelson did not suffer any pain. No signs of violence could be found upon the body. It was cold and had the appearance of death. Nelson remained there many hours. A deputy coroner took the remains to Revere Bros' mortuary.

Hatchets Buried By Savage and Oswald.

Surprising Ignorance of the Tenderloin Shown.

Prosecutor, in Disguise, Gives Up Witnesses.

Putting aside their personal differences, Nick Oswald and Tom Savage, hitherto the warring barons of the tenderloin, yesterday joined hands in Justice Chambers' court and agreed to forget the past and unite their forces for mutual protection.

When the first witness for the prosecution was called to the stand yesterday morning, it soon became apparent that Prosecutor Eddie would be compelled to extort evidence from those whom he had subpoenaed. Charles Silent, agent for the property, could throw no light on Savage's alleged management of the Belmont lodging house. Gates, a collector for Silent, was even more ignorant than his employer when it came to giving any "inside" information. Prosecutor Eddie gave up in disgust, after trying several other real estate men.

Savage, according to the statement of Gates, paid $1250 a month to the firm for the lease of the entire block of which the Belmont is a part. The collector testified that he personally collected the rentals for several of the stores in the block and that whatever the difference was between the amount collected and the $1250, Savage made up with his personal check. In that way it was impossible to trace the source of the rentals.

In the afternoon Charles Stack was called to the witness stand. Stack sat back and laughed at the attorney's question to all questions being that he feared he would incriminate himself if he answered.

Stack finally admitted that he was worth $15,000 and had lived in Los Angeles many years, having found his employment, the nature of which he refused to state, on the ground that it might incriminate him, quite profitable.

CRANING OF NECKS.
There was a general craning of necks and the rustling of skirts as the spectators leaned forward when Nick Oswald's name was called.

Oswald was to have been the prosecution's trump card. Ever since the trouble over the "bosses" of the Eighth Ward arose between Savage and Oswald, the rumor that Oswald would try to oust Savage has been becoming more and more insistent.

When an effort was made to reopen the old crib district, the inhabitants of the tenderloin began to tell that it was Oswald's effort to put the alleged Savage crime out of existence. When that movement was taken up by Mayor Harper, a second rumor that Savage had been bragging about his political power, complicated general raid on the tenderloin, during which the alleged Savage crime was not overlooked.

At last, when Savage was arrested on a charge of keeping a disorderly house, it was the main rumor that Oswald was simply trying another tack to take his enemy into camp. A general confession of some sort regarding crib propensities was expected yesterday when Oswald, neatly dressed, came forward and took the witness stand.

From the time he had entered court Oswald had paid no attention to Savage and he did not even look toward him as he began to testify.

"Do you know the reputation of the Belmont lodging-house?" asked Prosecutor Eddie.

"No," said Oswald, and there came a general murmur of surprise. Savage straightened up in his chair and began to watch the witness closely, as though not quite sure what would happen next.

"Do you know who keeps the place?" asked Eddie.

Oswald answered in the negative. When asked who had been the owner of the place prior to January 1, Oswald stated that he did not know. He did not answer the question on the ground that it would incriminate him. When asked to tell of the management of the place or state the name of the man who was the supposed manager of the Belmont, Oswald declined on the ground that he might say something that he could not prove.

After Oswald had finally stated that he did not know who kept the place or state the name of the manager, Attorney Eddie gave up the unprofitable witness.

SAVAGE WRINKLES.
As Oswald left the witness stand Savage's face wrinkled into a smile. Oswald walked toward him, and Savage sat and held out his hand. Savage took it and the two whispered together. From the looks on the faces of the assembled representatives of the tenderloin it was evident that they were indulging in an inward jubilation at the peace conference between the two bosses.

J. R. Bonetti, who, according to the testimony given by Newman Hogan, Monday, had dispensed hot chocolate to the women at the Belmont, was put on the stand. After taking carefully about and finding that the witness was not the person he was looking for, he bowed and disappeared.

The last witness of the day was the ex-convict who had been in the case, who braved personal danger and criticism by renting a room at the Belmont to secure evidence.

Mrs. Rosalind Caswell, the detective, testified that the first time she went to the Belmont was accompanied by an attorney. She stated that she had never seen Tom Savage about the renties and that her arrangements for a room had been made with another man.

"When I went there the place was fairly well crowded with men who were talking to the women there," testified Mrs. Caswell.

"I asked for a room and when they asked me if I wanted to go to work, I told them I did. They told me then that all the rooms were taken and that there was a long list of girls waiting for a chance to get into the house."

"I talked with one of the girls there and she asked me whether I had ever looked there before. I told her 'No,' she said that the place was a dollar a house. She told me that she was going away for awhile and that she would let me have her room."

Further evidence will be taken today, but the prosecution, after having on its chief witnesses, has admittedly failed to prove Savage's connection with the Belmont.

COPPER STOCKS

Foundation of the London-Arizona Copper Company

A Personal Statement of the Proposition by Charles E. Finney, the Founder and President of the Company, Who Has Been for 20 Years at the Head of the Greatest Smelting Enterprises in the United States.

The London-Arizona Copper Company was organized by me to take over the O'Carroll group of Copper claims situated 20 miles south of Globe and 3 miles from the Gila River and the Phoenix and Eastern Railroad in the extreme southern point of Gila county, Arizona.

The O'Carroll purchase numbers 42 claims to which 26 additional have since been added, making a total of 68.

The claims are all in a body constituting a very valuable estate, peculiarly easy and cheap to mine and carrying a perfectly self-fluxing ore peculiarly easy and cheap to smelt, so that I expect to be able to produce refined copper, laid down in New York, at as low a cost as any mine in North America and cheaper than most of them will ever be able to produce—assuming, of course, that I am enabled to put the London-Arizona on the same scale of production as the mines with which it is compared.

There can be no question about the capacity of the property to furnish ore, and the only problem before us is to secure the very considerable capital required to handle the output on a large scale—for the larger the production the cheaper the cost.

The lowest price that copper has ever reached was 12 cents a pound in 1894.

Though the metallurgy of copper has steadily improved since then, a return to that price would still close some of the largest copper mines in the world. But a careful study of the London-Arizona deposit in all its aspects gives me confidence to assert that we can earn good dividends with copper at 9 cents a pound when able to mine and smelt 3000 tons a day, and there is no reason why double that output may not soon be attained if the efficiency of capital can be enlisted to furnish so great a plant as would be required. We can rapidly earn all the money necessary to expand our enterprise to a capacity of 6000 tons a day after we get to producing one a day and give out stockholders fine and steady returns on their investment besides. It is my wish to make the dividends so steady and reliable that the stock will be regarded as an attractive investment security, rather than to make them astoundingly large one year and meager the next and have our stock become a football for speculators to gamble with.

It seems best to enlist by the sale of our stock sufficient capital to provide an adequate plant and an ample working fund at once, without waiting to earn it dollar by dollar, thus securing to all of us the advantage (in the economies of handling and smelting) of producing on the large scale as against the greater cost per ton of producing on the small scale.

Provided always you have the supply of ore (as the London-Arizona has, beyond question) the saving in cost per ton in handling 5000 tons a day over the cost per ton of handling 500 tons a day, will ordinarily pay the cost of the larger plant in a short time. This is what I mean—I would find it harder to produce metallic copper from the London-Arizona ground for 10 cents a pound on the scale of 500 tons a day than at 7 cents a pound on the scale of 5000 tons a day, and the difference of 3 cents a pound would pay the cost of a 5000-ton plant in a short time when the output of metal runs up to 60 or 70 million pounds a year.

But it would be bad business to rush a plant of a capacity of 5000 tons a day together helter skelter just because you have the price, and I don't propose to do it. I have all my business life been building and operating smelters, and I want a plant for the London-Arizona that will work like a clock. The first point of production that I aim at definitely is a plant with a capacity of 3000 tons daily. I intend to build it in units of 1000 tons capacity as soon as one unit is completed starting the next. In that way I shall avoid any possible mistake that might render the plant unfit to do the work with the greatest economy. There are few smelter plants in the world which it has not been found necessary to rebuild in order to secure greater economy. I don't want to have to rebuild the London-Arizona plant till it wears out.

When we reach a capacity of 3000 tons a day we can afford to pause and look about us and lay our plans deliberately to double the capacity of our plant, for we shall then be able to earn dividends that should satisfy the greediest investor that ever was born, for we have an actual smelting ore in vast quantity and all the natural conditions are quite unusually favorable to the largest production at an unusually low cost—dry mines assured by the topography of the ground—no pumping—little or no timbering—mining largely done by the caving system, which, where possible, is very cheap—delivery from the mine to the smelter by gravity at a cost not in excess of 1 cent a ton—a self-fluxing ore that can be dumped from the car into the furnace—a broad-gauge railroad, and the Gila river in Arizona right at our door—an elevation in this low latitude assures a comfortable and salubrious climate the year round—a fine fruit and agricultural country in the broad valleys of Gila and the San Pedro (which unite in front of our property) assuring low cost of living. In a word, the natural conditions are throughout for the production of copper at the

I have discouraged the use of exaggerated statements and forbidden the usual ruck of irresponsible "guarantees"—of all catch-penny talk—in the literature of this foundation. I don't want it presented in that discreditable and discrediting style; that is why I adopt the unusual method of making the general statement of conditions over my own signature. I desire it to be distinctly understood that I guarantee nothing but my perfect good faith in regard to the London-Arizona property, but I guarantee that absolutely, and my life-time record in the technical and administrative departments of mining and smelting on the largest scale should give some value and weight to that guarantee. I think, among prudent investors. In taking over the London-Arizona property and committing my own fortunes and the fortunes of personal friends to the venture, the reader may feel perfectly assured that I did not "buy a pig in a sack," but studied the proposition carefully for months in all its aspects with the aid of two very competent geologists and mineralogists, graduated mining engineers and familiar with the valuable and helpful studies of the U. S. Geological Survey on the great copper deposits in the Bisbee, the Clifton, the Jerome, and the Globe districts, all in Arizona, and all determined as being in the same remarkable Northwest-Southeast fault belt that carries the London-Arizona deposit—a belt known since those fine and valuable studies were made as "the Arizona Copper Zone."

I would wish that all who join me in the inauguration of this great industrial enterprise may, if possible, come and see the property for themselves and acquire the same undoubting confidence in its magnitude and value that I possess. I cordially invite all to do so who can. It would be an appreciable advantage to me and to the company to possess the unwavering confidence of every stockholder while I am putting the great enterprise on its feet, and to feel sure that they will not be upset and discouraged by any of the unforeseen delays and disappointments that inevitably occur in the starting of a large industrial concern. It will be a life-time investment that I think without doubt will prove a large profit earner for two generations at least, and it should be worth every stockholder's while to feel safe and satisfied from the start.

The little group of personal acquaintances in Boston who joined the distinguished Professor Agazzi in taking over the now famous Calumet and Hecla copper property of Michigan about 35 years ago at $12 a share, have received an average dividend (an average, observe, not annually regular) of almost $30 a share, or nearly 250 per cent a year on the investment and can now sell their shares at an advance of between 7000 and 8000 per cent on first cost.

Astounding and admirable as that result is, it is realized now by all competent mining judges that a great mistake was made in operating the Calumet and Hecla in the beginning with too small a working capital. This has lately been corrected by the gradual accumulation of a very large surplus that gives the company a firmer command of the situation, and enables them to produce copper at half the early cost by employing ever-increasing volumes of capital.

I do not wish to hold out inducements that would unduly influence people to purchase our stock, for I would wish them to buy it as a life-time investment rather than as a speculation; but I venture to believe that when operating on a scale of 3000 tons a day I can lay the finished copper of the London-Arizona down in the New York market at a slightly lower cost than the great Calumet and Hecla is able to do. In the matter of transportation that company has a great advantage over the London-Arizona, but at every other point of cost the advantage is decidedly with us. I am nearly confident (but as yet do not feel sure enough to assert it as a fact) that in volume and in average value our ore body will rank favorably with that of the Calumet and Hecla. This, however, has not been proven, and I would not wish investors to regard it as more than my personal impression, largely an influence from known facts.

An experienced and competent judge of copper ground, who had spent a day going carefully over the London-Arizona, said to me recently: "Mr. Finney, you have picked the quickest thing, the easiest thing, and the biggest thing in copper ever opened in Arizona." There is no doubt in my mind that the opinion was perfectly candid, but it is only the opinion of one man who had studied the property for only one day, and I would hesitate to express my own appreciation quite as confidently as that in view of the very great copper mines at Bisbee and Clifton and Jerome and Globe (all, with the London-Arizona, in the same copper zone that I have mentioned) yet I truly believe we can quickly make the London-Arizona the equal of the best of them. But it takes a little time, investors should clearly understand, to enlist and train into steady and dependable unity of action all the splendid energies and the fine administrative ability that go to the successful operation of those truly great mines, several of which have a present value of from 40 to 60 million dollars apiece and are earning good dividends on that valuation—more than the great Calumet and Hecla is earning on its present market price. Of course the high market value of the Calumet and Hecla is partly due—and quite justly due, in my opinion—to the unusually high and candid character of the administration. It is my ambition to infuse that same responsible character into the management of the London-Arizona, and I hope to make our stock regarded as not alone one of the most profitable but also one of the most respectable in the field of industrial enterprise, so that investors may rely upon it as a safe source of steady and lucrative income.

I have figured on an average copper content of only 5 per cent. (100 pounds to the ton) and I think that conservative. My aim has been to make all general estimates on the most conservative basis throughout, to avoid future disappointment. For instance, I have not figured earnings on the present high price of copper at all, but on the average price for the 20 years preceding 1906, which was close to 13 1/3 cents a pound—the lowest of any similar period in the history of the metal.

On a production of 3000 tons of ore a day that price will leave us a sure net profit of at least 6 cents a pound. If it sells at a higher price than that, we can earn proportionately larger profits. If it sells down to 9 cents, we can still earn reasonable dividends. It is hardly thinkable that it can ever reach a price low enough to stop profitable production in the London-Arizona, because before that price was reached more than half the copper mines of the world would be compelled to shut down.

A low cost in producing furnishes the investor the best guarantee, and the only real guarantee that can be given, of a steady income on his investment.

It cannot be amiss to remind investors emphatically that the London-Arizona is a direct-smelting proposition—a self-fluxing ore that can be dumped from the car into the furnace. Miners and smelter men will recognize in this statement a fact of the most fundamental importance to the cheap production of copper.

The titles to the property have been passed upon by the highest legal advisors and found satisfactory.

The strong points of the London-Arizona proposition are:

- 1st—The vast supply of ore assured and its direct-smelting character;
- 2d—A very unusually low cost of mining and smelting;
- 3d—A very unusually low cost of delivering the ore from the mines to the smelter;

THE BUSINESS RECORD OF CHARLES E. FINNEY.

BY JOSEPH BALL

The first thing a prudent investor wants to know about a business proposition is "the man back of it."

Only a comparatively small number of people are expert judges of any particular line of money-making enterprise, but nearly everybody is more or less an expert judge of character.

The character of the man or men back of it indicates pretty closely the character of the enterprise.

Of course, only a comparatively small number of people can expect ever to understand the mining and smelting and refining of copper. But then only a small number of people understand the mining and smelting and refining of iron and converting it into steel, and then manufacturing the steel into merchantable forms.

But hundreds of thousands of conservative investors buy iron and steel stocks.

Again, only a small number of people know anything about the administrative business of railroad management, but millions of people buy railroad stocks.

People invest in all industrial enterprises mainly on their faith in the men back of them.

What the investor desires to know in such cases, (and that, in most instances, is all that he is able to understand about the proposition unless he is himself an expert in that particular industry,) is this:

"Is the man back of it honest? Is he experienced and capable in that special line? Has he a record of success in that particular business? Are his own interests pledged to the success of this particular proposition, and will he conduct the business and make frequent public reports so that stockholders can understand its condition?"

When these questions have been satisfactorily answered you know all that an intelligent and prudent investor can expect to know about an industrial investment like copper-mining or steel-making or railroading.

Most any fairly intelligent person would be able to judge the character of Mr. Finney from the statement of the London-Arizona proposition given above his own signature.

Most any one would perceive in an instant from a reading of that statement that he is a man accustomed to weighing cautiously and prudently every judgment he expresses—accustomed also to having insight and influence accorded to his judgment when expressed. And that is really the case—his record proves it to be the case.

He has a good business man's detestation of all irresponsible and exaggerated statements of a business proposition. They all detect that sort of thing because it undermines business confidence—and confidence is the backbone of business.

Mr. Finney admits that the London-Arizona is less a mining proposition in its nature than a manufacturing proposition.

A mining proposition presupposes a search for ore. But there is no searching for ore in this London-Arizona proposition. It is there—calculatedly 83,000,000 tons of it; enough to furnish the smelter 3000 tons a day 300 days a year for 93 years. It is, therefore, in effect, only a proposition to get that ore out and MANUFACTURE it into refined copper.

Like iron, copper is a metal that cannot be produced at the lowest cost unless produced on a large scale, because the machinery necessary to produce it at a low cost is heavy and expensive and cannot be assembled at a day's notice. Mr. Finney expresses the belief that he can produce the copper from the London-Arizona at as low a cost as any mine in the world—even a shade lower than such great and admirably managed mines as the Copper Queen and the Calumet & Hecla of Bisbee, Arizona, the North Butte of Montana, and the greatest of all, the Calumet & Hecla of Michigan—when producing on the same scale.

There is no trouble in raising the few millions needed to put the London-Arizona on a large scale of production. The only trouble is to get the money on conditions that Mr. Finney will accept. The money has been offered by copper people amply able to furnish it, but on condition that he sell a controlling interest in the stock. But Mr. Finney will not part with the control. He has determined to make the complete development of this great property the finishing work of his life, and with his coadjutors in the foundation has pooled enough of the stock to assure its full development under his own experienced and reasonable management. He knows its great value perfectly and figures that with copper at 13 1/3 cents a pound (the average price for the 20 years preceding 1906) he can earn at least 12 per cent a year for 93 years on a value of $50 a share for the stock when able to handle 3000 tons of the ore a day.

I was myself amazed, when Mr. Finney first submitted his proposition to me, to find that he had based all his calculations on a price for the output of 13 1/3 cents a pound for the finished copper.

4th—Ideal conditions as to railroad transportation and water supply at the smelter;

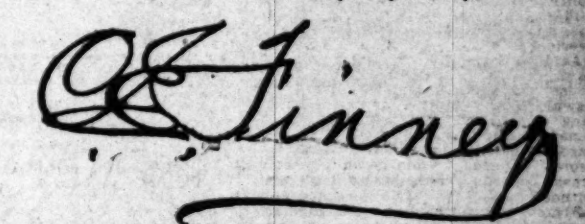

5th—An ideal climate all the year round, where our workmen will find it pleasant to make homes and have their families with them, and thus become a settled and responsible corps of assistants with a stake in the success of our great enterprise.

Add to the above peculiarly, advantageous natural conditions the further consideration that in committing all my own hopes to the success of this great enterprise I have sought to safeguard its future against the accidents of human life by taking care that its continued success shall depend upon the life of no one man. I have associated with myself as co-owners and co-operators Mr. Edward W. Brooks and Mr. R. D. O. Johnson, two younger men, graduated metallurgists and mining engineers, both of whom have had 20 years of the best practical experience—unusually fine and responsible experience in high-class professional work, and with whose qualifications I am well acquainted through former association.

That security is what I have aimed at—to surround my own investment and the investment of every dollar entrusted to me for this foundation with every safeguard that prudent foresight would suggest to assure a solid and continued success, so that we may all look forward confidently to see the London-Arizona soon take rank among the great copper mines of the world.

The financing of the treasury stock to raise the working capital has been placed in the hands of the Joseph Ball Company of Los Angeles, and as we could not, if we had it all in hand at once, prudently use the whole amount of money that we shall ultimately require, convenient terms of payment will be offered to subscribers. The company requires only to be assured that funds will be forthcoming without fail systematically as needed. The first offering of 200,000 shares (all that the company desires to place at present) will be sold at $6 a share on easy terms of payment which the Joseph Ball Company will make known.

Very respectfully,

I called his attention to the fact that the current price at the time was nearly twice that.

"Yes," he replied, "that's true, and it may go even higher. I do not expect it to go as low as 13 1/3 cents again, with the widely extended field that electricity has opened for the use of copper, but it may, and I want to make our estimates on the safe side. It holds to its present price we can easily earn the whole capitalization in one year as soon as we are able to handle 3000 tons a day. I don't want investors to go into this proposition with foolishly exaggerated hopes. The Calumet and Hecla stock sold, when in the prospect stage, five years ago, at $6.00 a share, the same as I am offering this. About the first of March, this year, it sold at $100 a share—a profit to the original stockholders of 300 per cent, besides having meanwhile paid in dividends $28.00 a share, or 466 per cent. I confidently believe the London-Arizona can best the record of that splendid and admirably managed property, the Calumet and Hecla. But I know we can earn big dividends with copper at 13 1/3 cents, and I prefer to stick to what I know in stating this proposition. It is worse than needless to exaggerate the merits of a proposition that can do as well as that."

Now that talk expresses the character of Mr. Finney all through and through—no exaggeration in presenting a business proposition—just a reserved, strong, unassailable and perfectly responsible statement of its merits.

HIS BUSINESS RECORD.

Born in Indiana—received a university education—spent the first thirteen years of his business career learning, by practical experience, the business of mining, smelting and refining ores under the late, eminent August B. Meyer at Kansas City, the founder and president of the vast Kansas City Smelting & Refining Company with smelters at Kansas City, Leavenworth and El Paso, and mines in the United States and Mexico. During the last five years of his term with Mr. Meyer, Mr. Finney was general administrative manager of all this vast and widely-placed business—a fact that shows what I know about his business capacity, his ability to manage large industrial enterprises.

When the Meyer properties were gathered into the "Smelter Trust"—the American Smelting & Refining Company—Mr. Finney went to the Guggenheims in the same capacity—administrative manager of all their vast mining and smelting enterprises in the United States and Mexico. And when, some years later, the Guggenheims gathered in the AMERICAN SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY, he remained with them as a member of the executive board two years longer.

Two years ago he built and brought into successful operation the fine custom smelter at Humboldt, near Prescott, Arizona. This, though not one of the largest, is one of the most perfect smelting concerns in the United States, and Mr. Finney there first introduced the use of the petroleum flame in the reverberatory furnace, which is now being widely adopted as very efficient and economical.

The Humboldt smelter brought him into close touch with all the miners of Arizona who were not able to have smelters of their own (which, of course, all the greater copper mines had), and led to his investigation, study and purchase of the London-Arizona property. That is, in brief, the record of his business career.

Does that record satisfactorily answer the questions that an intelligent, cautious investor would wish to ask before subscribing, concerning the "man back of it?"

If it does not satisfactorily answer as to his honesty, his business ability and his specialized experience in managing enterprises of the same character and magnitude as the one presented by him, you would certainly be a weak and foolish investor to subscribe.

As for myself, I not only agree with all who have seen the property, that it (the London-Arizona) is the BIGGEST thing, the QUICKEST thing and the EASIEST thing in copper ever opened in Arizona, but I also confidently believe it is certain to have a management.

EQUAL TO THE BEST.

That's saying enough. There is no better mine management in the world than the great copper properties of Arizona receive.

The London-Arizona is capitalized at $10,000,000. For value of shares, $10.00, half the stock dedicated to the company's treasury.

The financing of this great property has been entrusted to our house, and we are most anxious to have as much of it taken among our old clients of Southern California as they feel able to subscribe for quickly while we can offer it at a low price.

The price of the first offering is $6.00. We have maps and the most responsible reports. Pay a step into our office and get the literature and meet the founder of the great enterprise, Mr. Charles E. Finney.

COMMENCEMENTS.

...and affording a picturesque stage for the principals. Rev. Baker P. Lee will deliver the address, and Miss Dietrichson, the vocal instructor, will sing.

Monday was class day at Huntington Hall, and in the evening Miss Housel gave a dinner to the graduates. Saturday Miss Housel, accompanied by Mademoiselle Ballu, the French teacher, and two young ladies, will leave for New York, sailing on the Cretic for Europe, June 20. A delightful and profitable itinerary has been mapped out by Miss Housel.

AT CUMNOCK.
The commencement season to the Cumnock School of Expression extends this year from May 29 to June 13, with ten events occupying the attention of students and friends. The crowning feature will be the graduation evening, when diplomas in different departments of work will be presented to eleven girls—Misses Ruby King, Rosina Walters, Edna Addison, Mabel Bush, Louise Zimmerman, Florence Wood, Maude Lawton, Susan Stackwether, Ethel Parker, Helen Billingsley. Mrs. Griz, the director of the school, will read Wagner's mystical drama, "Parsifal," assisted at the piano by Archibald Sessions.

Affairs that have taken place include the Junior recital given May 29, and the senior class play given the evening of June 21. This play was Stephen Phillips' "Paola and Francesca," the principal characters being taken by Miss Wood, who took the part of Paola, and Miss Zimmerman, who played Francesca. This tragic drama was one of the best pieces of work ever produced at the school.

The open class lesson in physical culture Monday evening was attended by 300 interested people, who admired the grace and poise, as well as the strength of muscle displayed in the physical work.

The graduate recital will be given tomorrow evening, when Mackey's striking play, "Jennie D'Arcy," will be presented, and "The Romanca," by Rostand. The Junior play will be the Shakespearean pastoral, "As You Like It." Monday afternoon comes the class day exercises, Tuesday evening the commencement exercises, and Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Griz will give their annual reception to the graduating class. The annual luncheon of the Cumnock Alumni Association will be given at the Angelus Hotel June 13.

OCCIDENTAL'S OUTLINE.
Commencement events at Occidental College will be ushered in Thursday afternoon, when "College Day" will be celebrated. All sorts of class fun and college performances will occupy the afternoon, each one being kept a secret up to the last moment, for much original talent has been employed in the farces and various hits, and every one is on the qui vive for the surprises that college day will unfold. The Junior and freshmen have united in composing a farce that is to be a take-off on the "Hunchback of Notre Dame," and the sophomores have not divulged their part of the programme.

A beautiful ceremony of the day will be the bearing of the ivy chain through the grounds by a band of white-gowned girls. The procession will wind about and finally take its way to the spot where the class tree is to be planted. Thursday evening will be devoted to gymnastic exhibitions and college spirit and fun.

Friday evening will occur the president's reception. Saturday evening the School of Music will present a recital, and on Sunday at 4 o'clock in the afternoon the baccalaureate sermon will be preached by Rev. Malcolm J. McLeod of Pasadena.

A sacred service full of significance and beauty will be the students' communion conducted at the conclusion of the sermon.

At 5 o'clock there will be a prayer service of the Christian Associations of the college.

Next Monday evening the academy graduation exercises will be held at 8 p.m. in the Hall of Letters, and during the day an art exhibit will be in progress in the studio. The graduation exercises of the Academic Course School of Music will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday will come the senior class play, which is to be a musical extravaganza composed by members of the class. The first commencement day will be observed at the Immanuel Presbyterian Church, June 13, at 10 a.m. The alumni banquet will take place the evening of June 13.

THE TWO HIGHS.
The graduation classes of both the Los Angeles High School and the Polytechnic are to hold their exercises in the Auditorium this month, the former on Thursday, the 27th, and the latter on Friday, the 28th. Los Angeles High School will send out graduates to the number of 240 this year, seventy-five of whom belong to the winter class of '07 and the rest to the summer class. Joseph Scott will address them, and essays will be read by graduates, as follows: "Early Epics," Myrtle Backus; "Public Opinion," Joseph Grow; "Aerial Navigation," Ralph White; "The Heroine of Long Ago," Violet Thayer; "The West," Elsie Lafferty; "San Francisco," Harvey Howarth; "Child Labor vs. U. S. Senate," Howard Kruger. Music will be furnished by a chorus of the combined classes, from whom also an octette will be taken. A mandolin and guitar selection will form a part of the programme, to be contributed by the Delano Club. The seniors are to have their usual class days preceding the graduation exercises, the class of winter '08 to give the one-act farce, "The Dressing Room."

LAURELBOURGH VIOLET.
The young ladies will be graduated from the Marlborough School, the ceremony to be held the morning of June 13, at 10 a.m. in the school building. The simple ceremony marks the graduation. Mrs. George Brown gave her parting words of advice to the members of the class. The diplomas are presented, and the presentation of flowers closes the commencement. Mrs. Caswell will be in the room of the school. The evening of June 20, with a party at Kramer's Hall.

GREEN AND THE GOLD.
The interior of Huntington Hall was aglow with lights and flowers last evening, the presentation being the school colors and gold, carried out in a procession of red and yellow. The occasion was the graduation exercises of the Marlborough Violet, and the presentation of flowers closes the commencement. Mrs. Caswell will be in the room of the school. The evening of June 20, with a party at Kramer's Hall.

...and affording a picturesque stage for the principals. Rev. Baker P. Lee will deliver the address, and Miss Dietrichson, the vocal instructor, will sing.

Monday was class day at Huntington Hall, and in the evening Miss Housel gave a dinner to the graduates. Saturday Miss Housel, accompanied by Mademoiselle Ballu, the French teacher, and two young ladies, will leave for New York, sailing on the Cretic for Europe, June 20. A delightful and profitable itinerary has been mapped out by Miss Housel.

AT CUMNOCK.
The commencement season to the Cumnock School of Expression extends this year from May 29 to June 13, with ten events occupying the attention of students and friends. The crowning feature will be the graduation evening, when diplomas in different departments of work will be presented to eleven girls—Misses Ruby King, Rosina Walters, Edna Addison, Mabel Bush, Louise Zimmerman, Florence Wood, Maude Lawton, Susan Stackwether, Ethel Parker, Helen Billingsley. Mrs. Griz, the director of the school, will read Wagner's mystical drama, "Parsifal," assisted at the piano by Archibald Sessions.

Affairs that have taken place include the Junior recital given May 29, and the senior class play given the evening of June 21. This play was Stephen Phillips' "Paola and Francesca," the principal characters being taken by Miss Wood, who took the part of Paola, and Miss Zimmerman, who played Francesca. This tragic drama was one of the best pieces of work ever produced at the school.

The open class lesson in physical culture Monday evening was attended by 300 interested people, who admired the grace and poise, as well as the strength of muscle displayed in the physical work.

The graduate recital will be given tomorrow evening, when Mackey's striking play, "Jennie D'Arcy," will be presented, and "The Romanca," by Rostand. The Junior play will be the Shakespearean pastoral, "As You Like It." Monday afternoon comes the class day exercises, Tuesday evening the commencement exercises, and Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Griz will give their annual reception to the graduating class. The annual luncheon of the Cumnock Alumni Association will be given at the Angelus Hotel June 13.

OCCIDENTAL'S OUTLINE.
Commencement events at Occidental College will be ushered in Thursday afternoon, when "College Day" will be celebrated. All sorts of class fun and college performances will occupy the afternoon, each one being kept a secret up to the last moment, for much original talent has been employed in the farces and various hits, and every one is on the qui vive for the surprises that college day will unfold. The Junior and freshmen have united in composing a farce that is to be a take-off on the "Hunchback of Notre Dame," and the sophomores have not divulged their part of the programme.

A beautiful ceremony of the day will be the bearing of the ivy chain through the grounds by a band of white-gowned girls. The procession will wind about and finally take its way to the spot where the class tree is to be planted. Thursday evening will be devoted to gymnastic exhibitions and college spirit and fun.

Friday evening will occur the president's reception. Saturday evening the School of Music will present a recital, and on Sunday at 4 o'clock in the afternoon the baccalaureate sermon will be preached by Rev. Malcolm J. McLeod of Pasadena.

A sacred service full of significance and beauty will be the students' communion conducted at the conclusion of the sermon.

At 5 o'clock there will be a prayer service of the Christian Associations of the college.

Next Monday evening the academy graduation exercises will be held at 8 p.m. in the Hall of Letters, and during the day an art exhibit will be in progress in the studio. The graduation exercises of the Academic Course School of Music will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday will come the senior class play, which is to be a musical extravaganza composed by members of the class. The first commencement day will be observed at the Immanuel Presbyterian Church, June 13, at 10 a.m. The alumni banquet will take place the evening of June 13.

THE TWO HIGHS.
The graduation classes of both the Los Angeles High School and the Polytechnic are to hold their exercises in the Auditorium this month, the former on Thursday, the 27th, and the latter on Friday, the 28th. Los Angeles High School will send out graduates to the number of 240 this year, seventy-five of whom belong to the winter class of '07 and the rest to the summer class. Joseph Scott will address them, and essays will be read by graduates, as follows: "Early Epics," Myrtle Backus; "Public Opinion," Joseph Grow; "Aerial Navigation," Ralph White; "The Heroine of Long Ago," Violet Thayer; "The West," Elsie Lafferty; "San Francisco," Harvey Howarth; "Child Labor vs. U. S. Senate," Howard Kruger. Music will be furnished by a chorus of the combined classes, from whom also an octette will be taken. A mandolin and guitar selection will form a part of the programme, to be contributed by the Delano Club. The seniors are to have their usual class days preceding the graduation exercises, the class of winter '08 to give the one-act farce, "The Dressing Room."

Furnish Your Summer Home During This Pre-Inventory Sale of Furniture

We can save you a great deal of money and at the same time give you the best stock of bungalow and summer cottage furniture in the West to select from. The minimum reduction is 20 per cent.

Hammocks Are Cut 20 Per Cent

Just when you want them, too. Our new stock arrived only a few days ago, but they go into the bargain list just the same at 20 per cent. reduction. Regular prices range from $1.50 up.

$4.50 Swing Seat $3.35

The price does not include chain or rope for hanging, but you can get a good rope for two bits. This seat is made of ash, and is given the genuine weathered finish—just like weathered oak. $3.35 is a ridiculous price for this splendid porch piece.

Furniture Prices Cut 20 to 50 Per Cent

Big Assortment of Weathered Ash Furniture

Every Piece Reduced

Ash is the only wood that takes a weathered finish that can be compared in any way with weathered oak. It is much less expensive and we think just as effective. The arm chair on the left, for instance, sells in this sale at $6.40, rocker to match at the same price, and settee to match at $10.00. The one on the right sells for $6.80, rocker to match for same price, and settee to match for $10.80. Not at all expensive, you see. In fact, we have arm chairs as low as $3.95, rockers as low at $5.00, and settees as low as $6.00.
